Another Version of the Story of "An Old Robbinston Ship."

"Mr. Robbins came here at this time (1811) to build a ship. He brought his workmen with him -- Mr. Joshua Briggs, master workman, Mr. Ebenezer Chickering ship joiner, and other workmen. Mr. Robbins made a bargain with a firm in Boston to take the ship when she was finished and to keep them in supplies. They were to build a ship of 700 tons, but the merchants failed in business after the timber was hauled out of the woods, and two other merchants agreed to take a ship of 300 tons, so they cut the timber down to that size. They went on quite steadily with their work, although they had many things to discourage them, and had her about completed when the war of 1812 was declared. Mr. Robbins was very much perplexed, he did not know what to do with his ship, but he had her partially loaded with boards on the stocks, and then launched. Capt. Knapp of Boston, ready to take charge of her. Her name was the Sagadahoc. They set sail directly after she was launched, and went partly down the river and heard there were two man-of-war ships outside, and they put up Denny's River for safety. They got on the rocks and the ship was much injured, they took out the boards and she was taken to Eastport to be repaired. Capt. Buck of Eastport took her there, Mr. Briggs and men repaired her that winter and she was taken to Boston safely in March."

The above account was written out in 1873 by a lady, then 83 years of age, Mary, daughter of Thomas Vose Esq. of Robbinston, and 22 years of age at the launching of the ship above described and conversant with all the people and events connected with the building of it. Shortly after, she became the wife of Mr. Joshua Briggs, the builder, and lived to be past 90 years of age, retaining all her mental faculties to the last. The writer of this a native of Robbinston, when a boy of 13 in the fall of 1833, went on board the new Brigantine Gov. Robbins just down from Calais where she was built, Capt. Thomas Rogers master, to make his first trip to Boston, and this is the only vessel he ever knew or heard of bearing the name of the honored founder of Robbinston. His ship, built at his old place at Mill Cove, was the Sagadahoc of which the writer often heard in his young days. Capt. Buck (Eliphalet) was the maternal grandfather of the writer.

was the Sagadahoc of which the writer often heard in his young days. Capt. Buck (Eliphalet) was the maternal grandfather of the writer.

As information respecting old vessels built on and about Passamaquoddy Bay seems to be desired, perhaps it will be interesting for me to draw quite fully from Mrs. Briggs records, as to names and builders.

My grandfather, Thomas Vose with his wife and little daughter Mary came from Milton, Mass., in 1790 and settled in Robbinston. At his old home he was a very near neighbor, on "Brush Hill," of "Gov. Robbins," and through his influence was induced to settle on the next township. Mr. Vose occupied the Robbins place ten years, the house being on the northern point of Mill Cove, while on the southern point opposite, lived Mr. Samuel Jones, also from Milton. In 1799 Mr. Vose built him a large house where is now the village into which he moved in the fall of that year. During the next year (1800) he commenced to build the first vessel built in the town, sending to St. Andrews for his master workman Caleb Stetson, the maternal grandfather of the late Caleb S. Huston Esq. of Eastport. Abel Brooks of St. Andrews was the blacksmith. Both of these men afterward settled in Robbinston and brought up large families, the last and youngest of Mr. Brooks' family of 12—John, dying at Robbinston a few days ago, at the age of 74 years.

Shortly after the building of this vessel which Mr. Vose named the First Attempt, he built the Second Attempt,—a large brig Kubicon and the Sch. Boston. They were all built under the direction of Mr. Stetson. About the year 1804 Gen. John Brewer built the Mary and Sally at his place near the Mansion House, and Mr. John Balkam built the "Good Intent" at Mill Cove. About 1818 Mr. Vose built a large vessel, Mr. Stetson builder, named the Goliah. Soon after this, Mr. Briggs having become the son-in-law of Mr. Vose, the two built vessels together, Mr. Briggs superintending. First, came the Brig Vermont, for Wooster Tuttle, then the Gen. Brewer 90 tons, and the Maine about 200 tons. In time, John Nehemiah Marks Brewer, son of Gen. Brewer, became a noted shipbuilder. His master builder at Robbinston, was James Merrill of Newburyport, commencing 1835.—

His master builder at Robbinston, was James Merrill of Newburyport, commencing 1835.— Among his vessels, Brig Astec, 199 tons; Barque Everton, 233 tons; Gov. Francis, 96 tons; Brig Rebecca, 196 tons; Barque Lucy Wright, 520 tons; Ship Metoka, 775 tons; Ship Woodside, 634 tons; Barque Stephen Brewer, 250 tons; Brig Orthodox, 200 tons; Ship Mary Maurice, 423 tons; Barque Little Lizzie, 240 tons; Teazer, 266 tons; Ship Brewer, 606 tons; Brig Broome, 214 tons; Bark Agua, 250 tons; Brig Awe, 149 tons. Mr. Merrill also built for Mr. Brewer, the Barque Hobart, and the Ship Henry Clay.

I recollect the launching of the Teazer—the builders made a great day of it, giving a liberal free lunch at the Mansion House. One result, more drunkenness about the street than I ever saw at R. before or since. The Brigg Broome was built out of the old timber, which for years had been accumulating in the shipyard. And years afterward, I was told, that she outlasted those which were built of new stock.

Mr. Brewer, with Mr. Briggs as superintendent, built at Brandy Cove, St. Andrews: Ship Abbotstord, 680 tons; Rothschild, 730 tons; Frankfield, 800 tons; Julius Caesar, 800 tons; Birkenhead, 1,000 tons; Catherine, 1,000 tons; Lord Ashburton, 1,100 tons; Gossypium; Alexander Grant, 900 tons, Lady Sarah Bailey, 600 tons; Isabella Stewart, 600 tons.

Messrs. Vose & Briggs built at Robbinston: The Ora, 200; Motion, 200; Mary Eliza, 62 tons; Jack Downing, 70 tons; Wanderer, 165 tons, and Hanford, 180. They also built on the St. Andrews side of the river Brig Bee, 200 tons for Ker, Douglas & Campbell; Ship St. Andrews, 450 tons, George Gordon, 540 tons and the William Henry, 140 tons, for Donaldson, St. John; Louisa, 400 tons, Robert Ker, 600 tons and the Barque Garland, 300 tons for Ker, Douglass and Campbell; Mary Strang, 200 tons, for Capt. Scott; Ship Arcadia, 600 tons, for Capt. Brass; Lady Dunmore, 360 tons for Capt. Lacky; Sloop Thistle and Hannah. Most of these vessels were built on St. Andrews Island.

Mr. Carol Norton, assistant pastor of the Church of Christ (Scientist) New York city, preached in the Congregational church last Sunday morning to a large and appreciative audience.

Our summer visitors are beginning to leave. There have been a goodly number in town this season, among them some who have never been in this vicinity before. A party of six from Rochester, N. Y., Mr. and Mrs. DeLano and Mr. and Mrs. [unclear] New York city, all spent a few days with our quiet little town and beautiful scenery.

Mrs. Racish and son, of Calais, have been spending a short time here.

Mr. S. D. Balkam, of Jamaica Plains, returned on Saturday's boat for a few days, and will take his family back with him. Mrs. A. M. P. Collins, of Calais, is visiting Mrs. Balkam.

The schools in town began last Monday. Miss McDonald of Milltown is teaching the village school, Miss Edith Gerry in the North district and Miss Alice Loring at South Robbinston.

Our S. S. picnic came off last week and was a success in every way, being voted by all to have been the best one we have had for years.

IN THE SPRING

Nearly everybody needs a good medicine. The impurities which have accumulated in the blood during the cold months must be expelled, or when the mild days come, and the effect of bracing air is lost, the body is liable to be overcome by influenza or some serious disease.

Mrs. M. P. Downes, Calais, is visiting Mrs. Balkam.

Mrs. Percy Lord and little son Paul, Calais, were in town Sunday.

John Maloney, Jr., returned home last week, after an absence of several months, much improved in health.

The Ladies Circle met last week with Mrs. Woods, and took the form of a popcorn social. Watch chains were furnished for the gentlemen, and necklaces for the ladies, tied with ribbon of corresponding colors. When these were matched, the parties were weighed, the gentlemen paying for their supper the difference in weight, at the rate of one cent per pound. The highest sum paid was eighty-seven cents; the lowest 5 cents. Forty-two were present, and all seemed to enjoy the novelty of the occasion.

LEE.

Mrs. George P. Stevens, Orono, is the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Averill.

Miss June Burke returned from Massachusetts, Feb. 19th, where she has been stopping with her aunt, Mrs. Phineas Merrill.
